

a tour of innovative fatherhood programs

South Minneapolis is home to a number of premier social service and support programs for fathers. Join the Minnesota Fathers & Families Network as we take a tour of four programs that are helping men to learn about positive parenting, find housing, gain entrepreneurial skills, pay child support, improve their wellbeing, earn a GED, recover from addiction, and connect with their kids in healthy ways.

Participation is open to public policymakers, family court staff, judges, social service professionals, educators, business leaders, news media, and other community members interested in learning about the innovative work that is helping men to become great fathers.
